9

Automation: take the commands of your smart devices

Intrusion alarm systems are hardly the only smart devices you have at home. With the Advisor Advanced Pro app, you can control other devices connected to the security panel.

The most common interface between the security panel and other devices is a relay, which switches them on/off or bridges their input. With Advisor Advanced Pro App, you can control these devices.

It is also a possibility to link these triggers to geofencing events. For example, the panel and app can help you turn on the heating when you're on your way home from work or turn off the lights when you're away.

10 Easy to connect!

Among many other options to connect, we offer UltraSync connectivity to link the app with your panel or recorder. By registering your device using the UltraSync identifiers of the panel or of the UltraSync Empowered recorder, you can effortlessly connect it to your app. Rest assured that our service is safe, secure, and compliant with GDPR regulations.
